The Western Cotton Shippers Association invites all growers and Cotton Industry members to attend its 31st Annual Western Cotton Conference which will be held in conjunction with Supima's 60th Annual Meeting on Wednesday, August 27, 2014 at the Harris Ranch Inn in Coalinga, California.

Registration begins at 9:00 am followed by the Western Cotton Conference at 10:00 am and the Supima Annual Meeting at 11:00 am. A luncheon hosted by the Western Cotton Shippers Association and Supima will begin at 12:00 noon.

Those desiring to attend either event (or both) should complete the registration form below and return it to the WCSA office. If you have any questions regarding the Supima Annual Meeting, please contact the Supima office directly at 602-792-6002. We encourage you to register in advance in order for us to provide an accurate guarantee for lunch to Harris Ranch.

WCSA President, Mr. Kevin McDermott will speak on the important issues of the cotton industry regarding Far Western cotton. Mr. Anthony Tancredi, Chairman of the American Cotton Shippers Association, will address the conference with a market outlook. And, Paul Brown, Agricultural Meteorologist with the University of Arizona, will inform us about weather trends in the Far West and the implications for agriculture.
